Course Summary

Course Description	This class is designed to develop and improve students writing skills. Over the course of a 15-week semester it will cover key skills and techniques needed to produce clear, coherent paragraphs / essays with a specific focus on academic style composition. In order to achieve these goals, students will take part in group work and discussion-based activities to generate topics and facilitate the writing process. Mindful that writing and reading are inextricably related, students will read and analyze different types of essays to help them develop the skills necessary to critically evaluate a text and to express and articulate their o
